

Alaska's First-Ever Sousapalooza!

CALLING ALL WIND AND PERCUSSION PLAYERS!

Friday, June 21st, 6-7pm

Sousapalooza is a FREE community event that is taking place on International Make Music Day, June 21. This is an open invitation for wind and percussion players of all ages and abilities to come together and play through the music of the March King, John Philip Sousa!

Sign up: Please call The Horn Doctor at (907) 272-4676, or email us at info@horndoc.com. Let us know your name, what instrument you play, and how to best contact you.

Bring with you: Chair, instrument, music stand, and the music provided by downloading it from this site: <http://www.makemusicday.org/national-projects/sousapalooza/>. This is an outdoor event, rain shelter may be provided, but please dress accordingly.

Event Time: Friday, June 21st at 6pm to approximately 7pm.

Location: The Horn Doctor Music Store's parking lot, corner of 10th and Ingra in Anchorage (1000 Ingra Street, 99501).

Parking: Parking will not be available at the store, as we will be using most of the parking lot for the event. Parking is available along the street and we highly suggest carpooling. Please show up about 15 minutes before the event begins to set up.

If you have any questions contact Emily by emailing her at info@horndoc.com or calling (907) 272-4676. Hope to see you all here!
